Enter you first and last name.

Now be patient while Blackboard Collaborate loads. It will ask if your computer is on a LAN line or wireless. Answer and then the classroom will load and look like below.

You will be able to hear me talk and in the white space I will fill-in the blank notes. You can ask questions in the chat line. Please ask only questions about the material being presented. If you have questions about the syllabus, due dates and etc wait until the problem session or email me.

Problem sessions the notes will be posted but the sessions are not videoed. When doing homework in particular be sure to check the problem sessions for what problems were worked. Last semester students did not do this and missed lots of homework problems. If there are no questions the problem sessions will be canceled. Most of the time you have lots of questions but there are a few weeks that there are no questions.
