- If you are still logged in, you may choose 'Courses' to see your course listing once you are approved.
- As instructor, you will have access to a gradebook for each class.
- To access the quizzes, you will need to register as a student. You will need to know the class code for each class so it may be a good idea to print out the page with your course listings.

Registering Students

- Students will need your last name and class code to register.
- It is a good idea for the instructor to also register as a student
- Go to <http://www.estudy.uh.edu> and choose register
- Be sure to select Student

Tips

- Keep a list of student login names and passwords in case they forget
- You can check your 'gradebook' when logged on as instructor to see all registered students for each course.

When logged on as student

- Select the course and you will see two tabs:
